Structure

The program on Geopolitics of Sub-Saharan Africa uses the analytical tool of Geopolitics - space as a theatre of operations - to understand Sub-Saharan Africa, focusing on the Portuguese-speaking African Countries and on the regional security structures. Ours is a multidisciplinary approach and includes presentation of the geopolitical action in the region by researchers specialized on these matters. The program is organized by three research institutions: Instituto da Defesa Nacional (National Defence Institute - IDN), Centro de Estudos Internacionais (Studies Centre on International Studies - CEI), ISCTE – Instituto Universitário de Lisboa and OBSERVARE, Universidade Autónoma de Lisboa (UAL).
